

Music Holidays in 2017

with Chris McShane

Stay in inspirational surroundings at one of our comfortable Country Houses set in beautiful locations and enjoy an activity holiday combined with good food and good company.

Chris formally worked for Barnsley Music Service as Curriculum Development Officer for Guitar, Keyboard, Vocal studies and Music ICT and is now a freelance musician and instrumental teacher. In recent years, Chris has been active in promoting and teaching the ukulele. This teaching has ranged from full classes of 30 children in schools to groups of seniors in retirement homes. Chris also runs workshops at festivals and summer schools. He also runs a monthly ukulele club which is in its fourth year with over 60 members attending. Chris is also the musical director of the Uke Power festival.

Whether you are in a group, a couple or a single traveller - all are welcome to come and stay with us on a full board basis in splendid surroundings whilst learning new skills, making new friends and enjoying time to relax.
